DECEMBER L X K I X G R X K R C P C R T BY GERRY SCHILLER

It was holiday time for Ring 21 as a fairly large group of both old and several new members met for the annual December get together that included a pot luck plus some ordered dinner, a toy collection and, of course a bit of holiday magic.

Keeping alive the spirit of former (and unfortunately, the late) club president Robert de la Guerra, members contributed a large assembly of gifts for neighborhood kids which were piled around the tree.

There were a few announcements and one was about the new "coffee table" book by David Ginn which has just been released called "Kids Love Animals' and includes hundreds of tricks and ideas for those of us who do kids' shows (by the expert himself).

Eventually the well-fed magis were ready to show off some "holiday magic," and although not all kept to the theme, there was a lot of variety. Wendy Sobel started off with one of her favorite effects as she pulled some beautiful flower boxes from a paper bag and told the story of her grandfather bringing modest gifts to woo the woman who would become her grandmother.

A new member named John who explained he worked as a Urologist had an appropriate trick using sponge rubber shapes and describing some of his medical challenges. For me I think it proved to be one of the funniest—and most unusual tricks I've witnessed at an IBM meeting!

David Martinez had Wendy think of her favorite card and, surprisingly, it turned up attached to her IBM Membership Card!

Bob Weiss did some clever sleight of hand with tiny bottles that kept changing as he counted them on the table and into his pocket.

Elroy Codding surprised the group with a card trick using a (supposedly) shuffled deck but miraculously dealing out cards that matched in the piles they were dealt and finally 13 that were of the same suit and in "new deck" order.

In a valiant attempt to stick with the Holiday Theme Gerry Schiller had cards with Santa's reindeer names and provided some history about Moore's famous poem and how it has influenced so much of our current Christmas story, then he jumped ahead a hundred years and told how Rudolph became the new addition to the Santa story. But Gerry was sure to add two more reindeer names that kids who sing Rudolph's song have added: the bad reindeer named Olaf (and they sing his name in the line "Olaf the other reindeer used to laugh and call him names") and at the end we get "Glee" since the reindeer "shouted out with Glee" at the end!! I'll bet those two are even new to you!

Our raffle followed and all left the meeting with some "Great Expectations" of magic to come in 2024. Sorry but I had to get Mr. Dickens in my report—since he's such an integral part of the holiday story.

Just be thankful I didn't end with a "Bah humbug".

JOHN ENGMAN

Member of the Month

by Gerald Schiller

It seem to me that John Engman should get the award as the Ring 21 member who was truly exposed to magic long before anyone else. As a child—more than eighty years ago—while he was in elementary school he saw a magician perform!

However, though this was for him an eye-opening experience, it was not until a few years later that he learned some basic tricks from (of all places) a cereal box and performed them at a Christmas party for his Scout group, and then he became a performing magician and then he became a performing magician.

Many years later, as an adult, he came upon Thurston's classic book 400 Tricks You Can Do.

And not long after, he discovered Owens Magic Supreme in Alhambra. It was here the magic bug truly bit.

In 1967, John joined SAM Assembly 22 and expanded his knowledge with the books, lectures he attended and the tricks he bought. The group he joined was well populated with magicians, including names like Dai Vernon, Chuck Jones, as well as both Bill and Milt Larsen.

In 1970 John joined The Magic Castle and he describes the audition as "not very difficult." He showed the audition committee a list of all the magic books he owned and then did a "coin through hank" effect. Apparently in those days things were a bit more relaxed!

Over the years John has maintained his SAM and added IBM membership as well. He has served (at one time or another) as president, secretary, sergeant-atarms, and even Legal Adviser with the SAM Assembly.

When asked about the books he recommends, he includes The Tarbell Course, Mark Wilson's Course in Magic, and The Royal Road to Card Magic. He adds that these alone have enough magic in them "to keep most magicians busy for a lifetime."

When pressed for some of his favorite effects he will list: The Egg Bag, Clippo, and The Six Bill Repeat.

We are grateful to John Engman who truly brings much perspective, wisdom, and background to Ring 21.

Don't forget, if given a name badge to bring and wear it at our next meeting and let us know if you need one.
